

Press Release

VANCOUVER, BC – December 17th, 2009 - Harris Computer Systems ("Harris") is pleased to announce Intermountain Rural Electric Association (IREA) has chosen for its Enterprise Wide System Solution, the Cayenta Enterprise Resource Planning ("Cayenta ERP") Solution. The Cayenta ERP is a comprehensive solution including Cayenta Utilities, Cayenta Financials and Cayenta Operations.

IREA is an electric distribution cooperative that was incorporated August 24, 1938 in the state of Colorado. IREA's 5,000-square-mile territory includes all or parts of ten counties to the east, west and south of the metro Denver area and west of Colorado Springs. With 138,000 consumers, IREA is one of the largest and fastest-growing of more than 900 member-owned electric distribution cooperatives in the United States.

"With the beginning of this partnership, we look forward to establishing exceptional levels of employee and customer service while optimizing the value of IREA's asset base. We are confident that Cayenta can provide us with software solutions that cross organizational boundaries, and integrate across all of our business systems." states Mandi Zimmerman, Division Manager of Consumer & Information Services for IREA.

"IREA is a very effective customer-owned utility and will be an excellent member of the Cayenta family. We look forward to a long and successful partnership with IREA" remarked Brad Atchison, General Manager for Harris' Cayenta business division. "We are looking forward to working with IREA on a successful implementation of the Cayenta ERP suite."

Cayenta provides a fully integrated and comprehensive ERP solution for the mid-market. Cayenta provides effective solutions with tremendous value to fiscally responsible utilities and governments.
